Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) Release Form

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) (20 U.S.C. 123g; 34 CFR Part 99) is a Federal law that protects the privacy of student education records. The law applies to all schools that receive funds under an applicable program of the U.S. Department of Education.

Students over the age of eighteen, or who are enrolled at a postsecondary institution are referred to as "eligible students" and are granted the right to make their own decisions about their education records. A student's education records may not be disclosed to third parties without consent of the eligible student.
