Public Comments Invited on Haskell Accreditation

Lawrence, KS—Haskell Indian Nations University will undergo a comprehensive evaluation visit April 13-15, 2015 by a team representing The Higher Learning Commission (HLC) of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. The public is being invited to submit comments on the school until March, 13, 2015. Haskell has been accredited by the Commission since 1979. The team will review Haskell’s ability to continue to meet the Commission’s Criteria for Accreditation.

The Higher Learning Commission is one of six accrediting agencies in the United States that provide institutional accreditation on a regional basis. Accreditation is the primary means for assuring accountability; it certifies institutional quality and protects the institution’s academic freedom. Institutional accreditation evaluates an entire institution and accredits it as a whole. Accreditation is voluntary. The Commission is recognized by the U.S. Department of Education.
